

Mike Himley

Himley brings a unique blend of top level strategy and practical implementation from more than 20 years of global business experience. He has held leadership positions in commercial operations including P&L management, global alliance development, sales and marketing strategy, sales management, and business development. Himley's experience spans numerous industries including software, high-tech, transportation, aerospace, government, and banking/finance. He has traveled extensively throughout the world and conducted business throughout Europe, Asia Pacific, and North and South America.

- Currently Founder, CEO and President of Eagle Intelligence, an Information Management Systems and Consulting firm. Eagle's focus is on designing and implementing knowledge, information, and intelligence management platforms for governments, law enforcement, and commercial firms.
- Developed patent-pending software intelligence management platform for law enforcement intelligence operations.
- Consulted to the California Department of Justice for State-wide effort to improve legal compliance automation for criminal intelligence operations.
- Started and led the US Western Region Commercial Operations for a law enforcement data-mining software company.
- Successfully created and led a team to design and deliver the software project and implementation plan for the Nation's largest Fusion Center, the Joint Regional Intelligence Center in Los Angeles.
- Led the Commercial Operations team in North and South America for the Aerospace and Government business unit of a Billion Dollar IT solutions firm.
- Also was responsible for developing and leading the world-wide business development and relationship management efforts to the world's largest global airline alliance, the Star Alliance.

Himley, a certified Professional Project Manager, received his Bachelor's degree in Business from Western Illinois University and an M.B.A. from DePaul University in Chicago. He has also attended various executive education courses from Harvard, IMD (International Institute for Management Development) in Switzerland, and the Center for Creative Leadership, one of the top executive leadership training programs in the world. A lifelong learner, Himley also regularly participates in online courses such as those found on MIT's OpenCourseWare project.